The slanted upper profile deflects the vehicles back on the roads in case they happen to clip the kerbstones ensuring additional safety. The Half-Battered Kerbstone are widely used in residential and urban areas due to their safety characteristics.

Bull-Nosed Kerbstone

Asian's Bull-Nosed Kerbstones are an essential requirement in all commercial applications for retaining pavement and creating boundaries between roads and footpath. Bull-Nosed Kerbstones are used as transitions, in internal/external corners and radius areas to provide a softer profile edge restraint and design to complement the smooth flow to road edges. On a functional level, Bull-Nosed Kerbstones offer extreme strength, remarkable longevity and value retention and are aesthetically pleasing.
